Introduction

Famous Quotation:

"Family is the most important thing the world."

Best known for:

Helping people who can not help themselves.

What I find interesting:

That her parents got divorced when she was six years old.

3 Key Qualities:

1. Overcame a hardship
2. Compassion
3. Took action

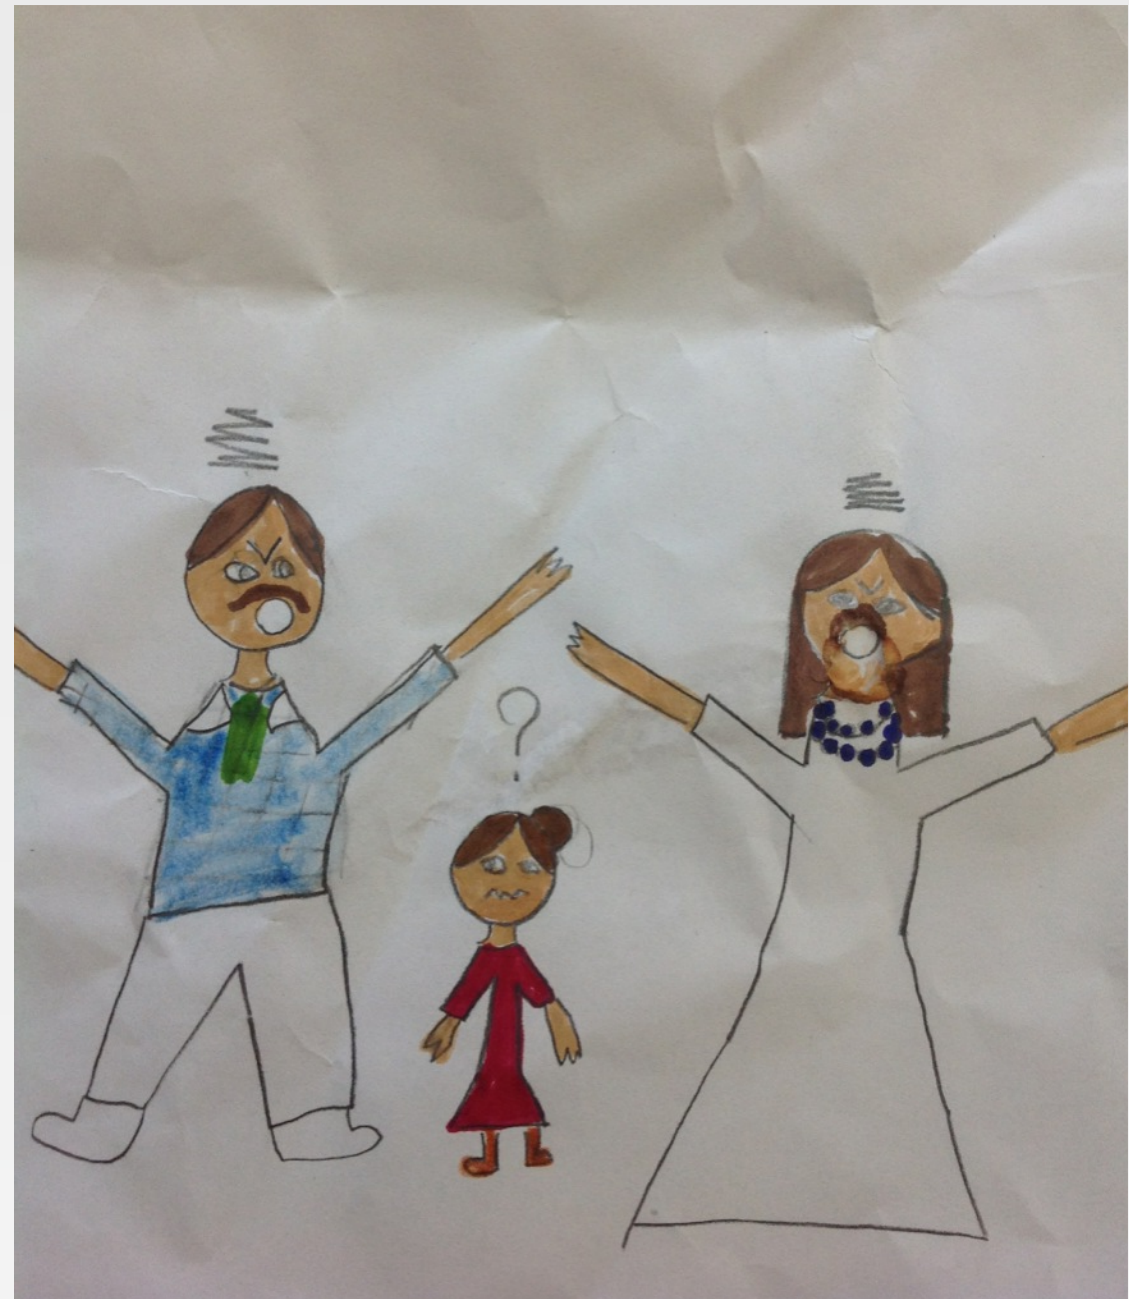

I chose this person because...
It was very interesting to learn how Diana helped people.

Overcame a Hardship/Challenge

Princess Diana's dad and mom got divorced when she was six years old. Diana had to live with her father.

This reminds me of my grandpa and grandma who are divorced.

Showed Compassion and Empathy

Princess Diana helped children suffering from stuff like Leprosy or AIDS in Africa and in other parts of the world. She did this work for over 10 years.

She opened a hospital for sick people. This reminds me of Mother Teresa who helped people in India.

Demonstrated Bravery/Took Action

Around 1987 Diana changed people's thoughts about how people with AIDS should be treated.

This reminds me of Cesar Chavez because he fought for equal rights of Mexican migrant farm workers.

Persevered

Diana never stopped helping people who were sick and had disabilities. Diana would go and comfort them and tell them just because they had disabilities sometimes they can do great things and they should be proud.

This reminds me of Satchel Paige because he helped homeless families.

Impact: How Things are Different Today

When little was known about AIDS and how people got it, many people were afraid of how you could get it. Diana made them think twice about how you should be kind to people with AIDS and not be afraid of them.

This makes me feel very relieved because if no one stood up for how people with AIDS are treated, the everyone would still be afraid of people with AIDS.

Viewed Problems as Opportunities

In 1996 Diana helped take out land mines with the Halo Trust in parts of the world where there had been wars, such as Angola and Bosnia.

She saved a lot of people because if she did not do this there would be explosions everywhere and we would be wasting water to put out the explosions and we would have a BIG drought!

Author Talk

I'm similar to my Change Maker because I want to help change the world and make it a better place, very safe and I'm going to do that by using my words.

I'm a Change Maker when I help people's lives get better and make them feel safe.

My Change Maker is connected to Mother Teresa because she was a nurse too and helped people with Leprosy.

My aunt made a difference in 7 families' lives by giving them Christmas presents. She also encouraged to company to adopt a high school in downtown Los Angeles. She wanted to inspire kids who had improved their grades... even though they come from poor families.

Senator Inouye

was a great man. He was a Japanese-American. In WWII he lost his arm and got the Medal of Honor. In the 1980's Inouye was a monumental force. He was a senator for Hawaii.
